

207 open-source AI skills + a memory + an action layer, for every profession. Each is a `SKILL.md` that teaches an AI the structure a senior pro actually uses — so the first draft is shippable, not filler. PM = Professional, not just Product Management.

🧠 The Professional Brain — memory + actions

A local, plain-markdown memory skills read before answering and write to after. No vector DB — grep-able, auditable, Obsidian-compatible.

brain/  context.md · knowledge/ · decisions/hypotheses/ · stakeholders/ · entities/ · source/

- Provenance tags: `[data]` `[interview]` `[external]` `[verbal]` `[hunch]` — a hunch never poses as data.
- Ops: init · ingest · recall · record · review (`/brain`)
- Recall: `brain_query.py` — deterministic, provenance-ranked
- Write-back: `brain_write.py` — append-only, dry-run, approval-gated
- Actions (`action-runner`): recommendations → real tickets/messages, risk-rated 🟢🟡🔴, approved per action. Nothing acts silently.

recall → run a skill → produce → propose actions → approve → execute → record back → weekly review

✅ Quality & 🔧 tooling

- Eval-scored, not just counted — LLM judge on structure/completeness/usefulness/grounding → 196 scored, 4.8/5
- Self-improving — `/improve` keeps a rewrite only if the score rises
- PR gates — SkillCheck (structure) + Security Auditor (injection/exfiltration)
- Explore/try: Skill Galaxy (map) · Ask (dev Q&A) · Grade your draft · Compare mode · Skill Studio (make → PR)
- In CI: a GitHub Action runs a skill on a PR; Skill Bot runs `/skill` from a comment
